Capital-raising Process

Introduces a new approach to the investing and capital-raising process. It can offer several benefits to both companies and investors.

We have usefully delivered more than 20+ platforms for some of the major industry giants that enable you to set up an equity crowdfunding platform in the form of a portal or a website where entrepreneurs or equity fundraisers can invite interested people to invest in their startups through our online fundraising portal approach.

Crowdfunding and Project Management Platform

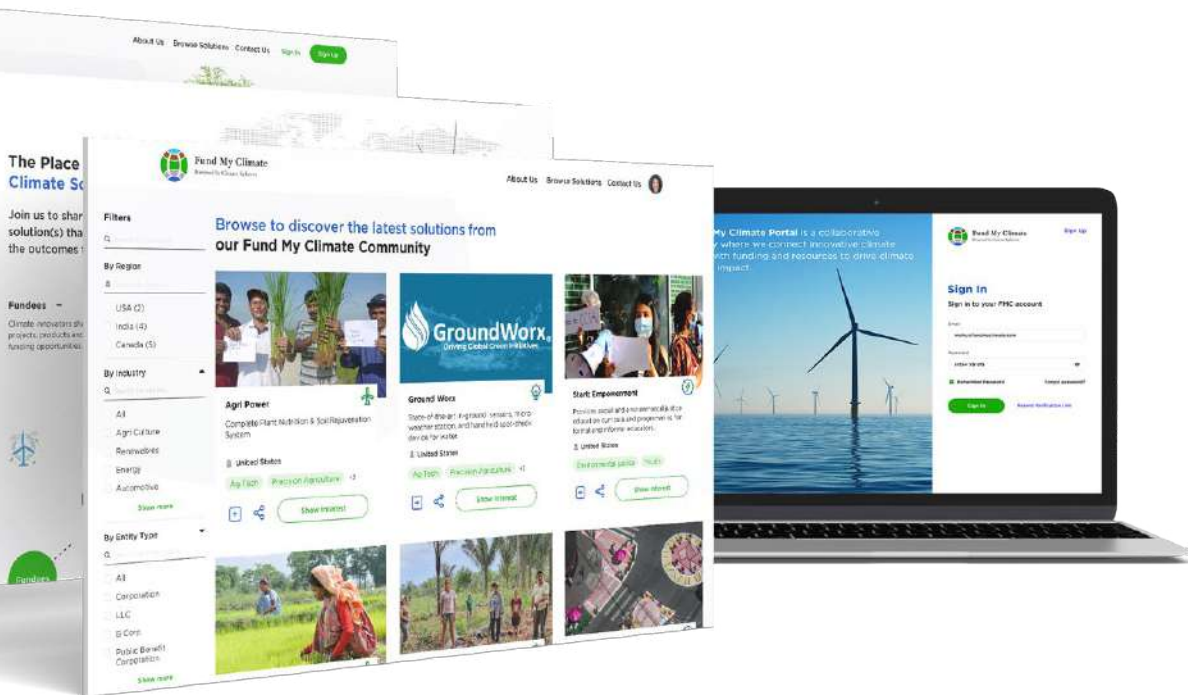

Enable global capability through a single platform for climate sustainability projects or technology fundees and funders to connect with scale and immediacy without invasive intermediaries.

Problem Statement

Accessing funding is a universal problem for entrepreneurs. Starting a business and securing funding is a major challenge about our climate from the science of the spheres, the contribution of technology in everyday life, various policy and regulations, through financial operations.

Solution Provided

IntelliMedia developed a centralized Climate Portal with a high-level structured view with key aspects such as science, technology, sustainability, policy, finance, projects, and daily news. The platform also shares knowledge about the local community and commercial project funding needs with various bulk investor communities in For-Profit and Non-Profit domains.
