Fitness Application Synopsis

The 2020 pandemic has encouraged many of us to try out the at-home workout routines in novel ways.

While the at-home work outs have significant potential to bring a positive change in the health of many, the virtual nature of such classes de-humanizes the experience to a certain degree. Our fitness solution uses our shared presence technology to bring back and significantly enhance group-exercises and instructor-led training sessions.

Cloud Based Virtual Fitness Solutions

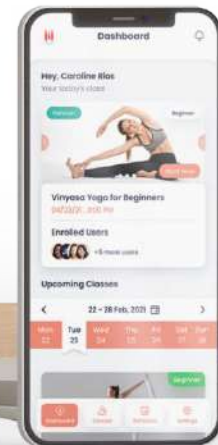

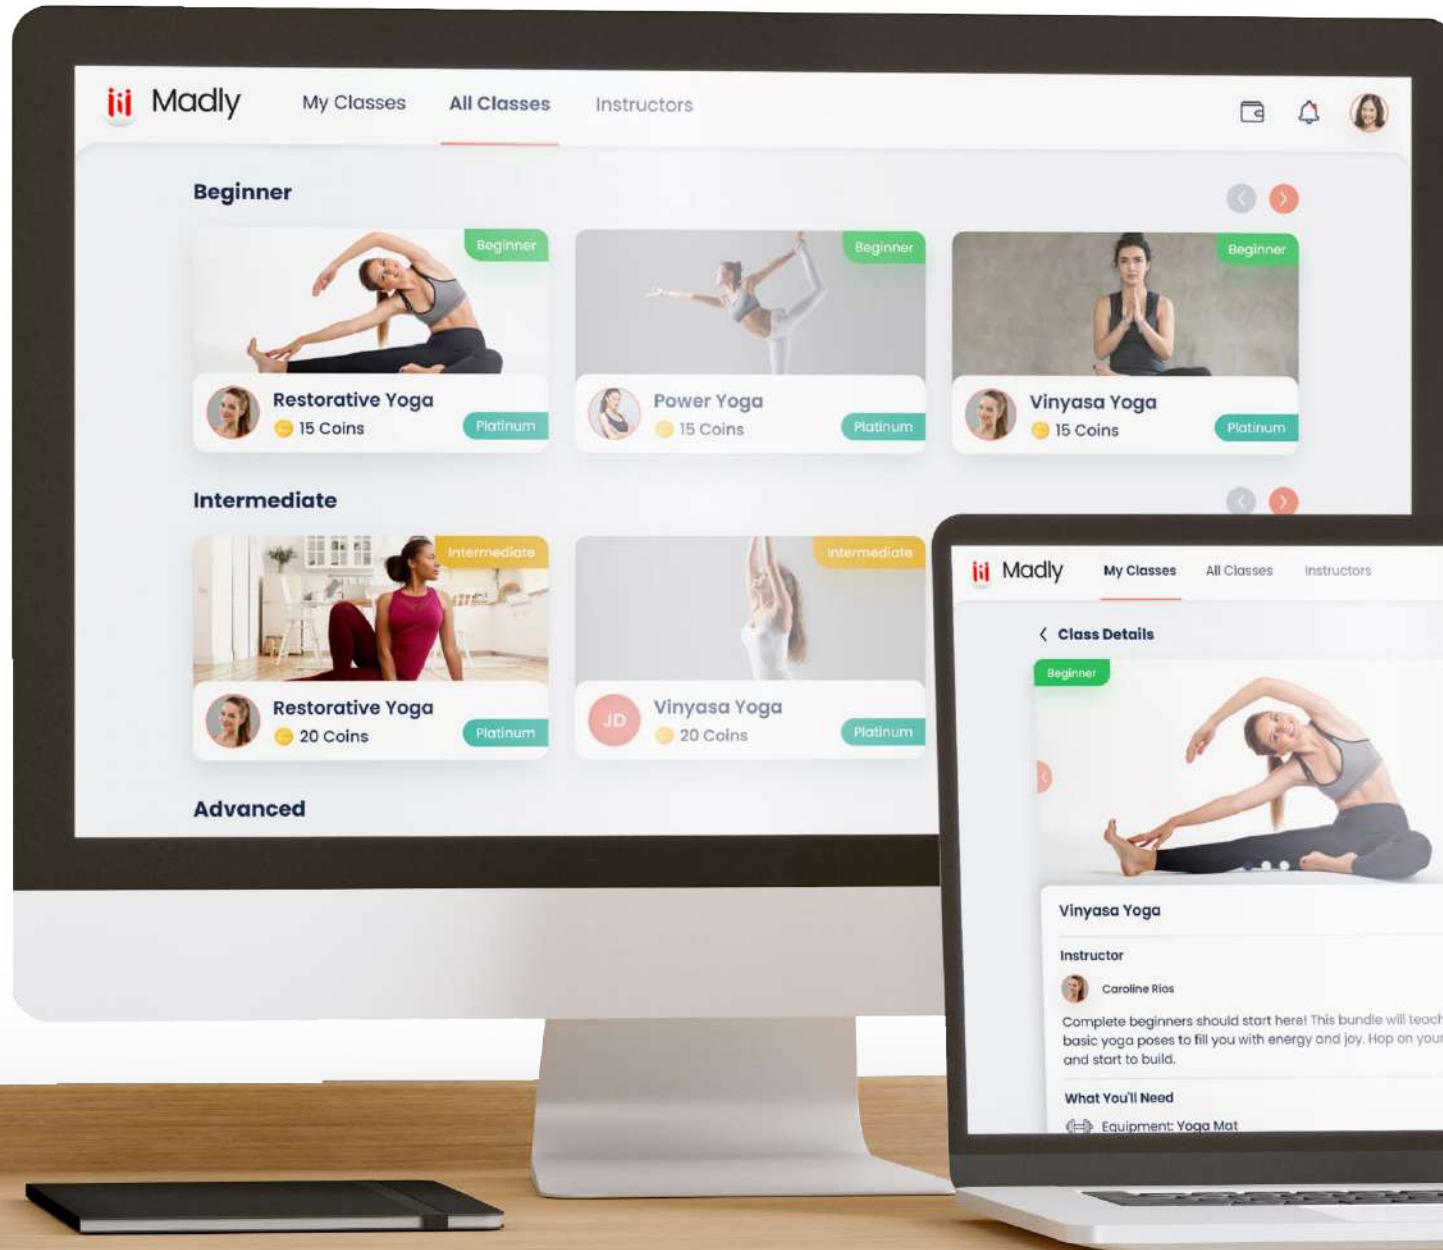

Live and On-demand virtual fitness platform

The platform enables participants to virtually join a class and still get the feeling of working out together. It allows fitness instructors to really connect with their participants by providing a true bidirectional visual experience.
